Desired Opportunities:

Develop automation and control solutions for IoT, smart cities, or Industry 4.0; Design and develop cross-platform applications for web or desktop, including institutional websites, e-commerce, or digital signage (DOOH) and multimedia systems; Design and develop games or animations for web and audiovisual media.

Summary:

I am a generalist technology professional with over 25 years of experience and extensive knowledge across software engineering and development, especially for web and multimedia. I have worked as a UX/UI Designer, Motion Designer, and Full-Stack Developer in web development studios, game development companies, audiovisual studios, advertising agencies, digital signage networks, and online retail. Currently, I work as a web developer focused primarily on frontend, with additional experience in backend and microservices. I also build systems for the Internet of Things, smart cities, residential and corporate automation and control.
